"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

SUPREME COURT AND LABOR.

Samuels Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, before the House committee on the judiciary yesterday asserted that labor organizations are not going to be "driven out of existence," notwithstanding adverse decisions by the courts. He expressed confidence that the President of the United States sincerely sympathized "with all our people," and added:

"I have reasons to believe that the President is not thoroughly informed as to the real remedy for the cause of complaint."

These statements were made in an argument on the Pearre bill to regulate the issuance of restraining orders and injunctions and to limit the meaning of "conspiracy" in certain cases.

Over the signature of Samuel Gompers an editorial in the American Federationist for this month attacked the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Loewe & Company, popularly known as the "Hat case," which is declared to be "the most drastic and far-reaching decision which it has ever handed down," and as affecting directly all labor, and hence the whole people. The editor begins with the statement that "labor organizations must not be outlawed," and then proceeds at great length to review the court's decision point by point with a view to showing that the court erred.

It is denied that there was any restraint of trade on the part of the United Hatters, because their action in preventing the sale of Loewe hats "did not result in fewer hats being purchased by the community." Moreover, it is asserted positively that in one important point the court was in error, for "the American Federation of Labor never indorsed or declared a boycott against the Loewe Company."

Says Mr. Gompers: "We trust it will not be considered lese majeste if we say that in our opinion the Supreme Court, in this and other recent decisions affecting labor, tends to revert to the medieval procedure rather than to make the application of legal principles to the present industrial situation * * * The language of the hatters' decision makes it clear that the Supreme Court has not informed itself on modern economics. In its opinion the rights of hats seem to be greater than the rights of men. * * * In fact, this decision goes to an unheard-of length in punishing the workers for the exercise of their rights.

It is denied that a labor union is a "trust," for "there cannot be a trust in something which is not yet produced." The editorial, continuing, declares that while the conscience of a large majority of employers will not permit them to take advantage of this decision, "there is always the selfish, avaricious, conscienceless type of employer," which might inflict great hardship under the protection of such a decree.

It is noticeable that the current issue of the Federationist omits the usual "We Don't Patronize List," but instead a paragraph at the end of the editorial declares: "It should be borne in mind that there is no law, aye, not even a court decision, compelling union men or their friends of labor to buy ——," naming the particular articles which form the basis of the Supreme Court's decision.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 25, 1908.

THAT THE hand of the assassin is poised over the Roman Catholic priests of Chicago, prepared to descend as swiftly as it struck death to Father Leo Heinrichs in Denver Sunday, is the conviction of the clergy in that city. They believe a society exists whose sole aim is extermination of the authority of the Catholic Church. The society—the Girodane Bruno Club—they allege, has a branch in Chicago. It is also the belief that Guisseppe Guaranaccio, or Alio, the Denver assasin, is only one of the products of this organization. Guaranaccio, it is asserted, received his inspiration to murder at a meeting held in Chicago last December. The addresses were of a fiery character and their keynote a demand for the death of church leaders. These facts are given out by the Right Rev. Edward M. Dunne, Chancelor of the Archdiocese of Chicago. The above is but another straw which shows which way the wind is blowing, and establishes the fact that the world is not growing better, as some dream. Those composing the cut-throat band in Chicago, it seems, are not only sworn enemies to the priesthood, but to church leaders in general, and the time may come when to pose as a religionist will require more nerve than at present.

CAPT. HOBSON, of Alabama, tried his Chautauqua lecture on the House naval affairs committee the other day, and he is now preparing to spring it on the House itself. The lecture certainly made a hit with the committee. Capt. Hobson thinks he knows more about battleships, cruisers torpedoes, turrets and bumboats than any other statesman in captivity, and he knows how to impart his information entertainingly. For an hour and a half the committee sat spell-bound under his rapid fire eloquence. He painted such a fearful picture of what would happen to this great republic if the committee didn't speedily begin the building of that billion dollar navy, that the members actually shivered. The only trouble was they waited until they recovered before they reported the naval programme for this year. They then authorized only two battleships, a handful of submarines, and a few minor accessories. When Capt. Hobson gets off his Chautauqua lecture to the House, he is going to try to have a vote the same day.

CHANCELLOR JAMES R. DAY, of Syracuse University, has discovered another menace to religion, morality, civilzation and the Standard Oil Company. It is a double-action menace, too, formed of the newspapers and "that rabid thing called public opinion." He told the Methodist ministers about it at their meeting in Philadelphia yesterday, and particularly warned them against permitting their sermons and their photographs to be spread before the general public, because, he said, the newspaper is endeavoring to usurp the functions of the pulpit.

MR. ACHESON yesterday introduced a bill in the House of Representatives providing for an amendment to the constitution prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors or narcotics anywhere in territory within the jurisdiction of the United States. This is the most aggressive prohibition measure ever presented to Congress. Mr. Acheson expects by the suggestion of so radical a measure to serve notice upon the House managers that the prohibition and temperance sentiment of the country demands recognition and consideration in legislation.

SINCE the middle of January the national banks have applied to the Comptroller of the Currency for the retirement of nearly $50,000,000 of their outstanding banknote circulation. Only the law limiting to $9,000,000 the amount that can be retired in any one month prevents the immediate withdrawal of this sum from the currency supply. Because of the limitation, the comptroller has made arrangements to distribute the proposed retirements over a period of several months, at the rate of $9,000,000 per month.

GOVERNOR HUGHES, in an address in Chicago, Saturday, said that fining trust officials is putting the burden on the public. He favors jail sentences for corporation officials, and that is the only method that will prevent the violations of the laws.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., February 25.

There is a well defined sentiment, fortified by recent developments, that Minister Wu Ting Fang, who is soon to arrive in the United States, will inaugurate an entirely new phase of diplomacy, so far as its centers upon the Orient. It is asserted that Japan, prostrated by her own financial troubles, will take the rear of the stage, and China, who has found her position uncomfortable under the tutelage of Japan, will come to the front with an entirely independent policy. Such a course has been impressed upon China as the result of the aggressive policy of Japan in Korea and Manchuria. This has not only given rise to protests on the part of the foreign merchants, who have been successful in persuading their governments that Japan proposes to give no consideration to other than her own people. Measures for the modernization of China's army, as conceived by the Japanese, have been abandoned, and China has been left to her own resources. Japan, burdened with an enormous war debt, and battling for her policies in the face of a strenuous international opposition apparently, for the time being, has been forced out of her benignant attitude of champion of all the Orients, and China is preparing to seize the opportunity of asserting her independence with the cooperation of western governments. It is likely, therefore, that the most absorbing diplomatic struggle in Washington during the coming year, will be that between Minister Wu, who had already achieved a record here, and Baron Kogoro Takahira, the Japanese Ambassador, who is likewise well-known for his successes as Japan's representative in Washington and at the Portsmouth peace conference. The United States is in the enviable but difficult position of being flirted with by both countries of the far East. Japan wants America's commerce and friendship. China wants America's protection against Japan.

Mr. Lilley, of Connecticut, today filed with the House committee on rules, of which Speaker Cannon is chairman, a brief setting forth his charges that the Electric Boat Company had exerted improper influence in the matter of submarine boat legislation before the House naval committee. In addition to his written statement, Mr. Lilley made an oral argument on the subject. He was speaking when the time arrived for the Speaker to appear on the floor of the House. At a short meeting of the rules committee, this afternoon it was agreed to avoid all discussion of the charges Mr. Lilley had made, until the stenographers report of the meeting had been placed before them.

The government will have plenty of money as soon as it collects the big rebate fines the bad corporations owe it, according to the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court. Unless some new defense can now be patched up the following fines must be paid in accordance with the holding that the Elkins act was not repealed by the Hepburn railroad rate law: Standard Oil Company, $29,400,000; Great Northern Railway Company, $15,000; Chicago and Alton Railway Company, $40,000; John N. Faithorn, vice-president of the Chicago and Alton Railroad Company, $10,000; Fred A. Wann, general freight agent of the Chicago and Alton Railway Company, $10,000; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway Company, $15,000; Armour Packing Company, $15,000; Swift and Company, $15,000; Morris and Company, $15,000; Cudahy Packing Company, $15,000. Total $29,550,000

The President probably breathed a sigh of relief when Mrs. Roosevelt returned today from Groton, Mass., where she has been visiting her boys, Kermit and Archie.

President Roosevelt, together with a number of other high government officials, this afternoon attended the funeral of the late Bishop Satterlee.

Indications today are that the banking and currency committee of the House will not conclude its consideration of the Fowler currency bill until Friday.

An unknown colored man, in an intoxicated condition, fell off a car at Seventh street and Pennsylvania avenue at 10 o'clock this morning and was hit and instantly killed by a car from the opposite direction. The body was taken to the morgue.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Feb. 25.

SENATE.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma, a reputed millionaire, made his maiden speech in the Senate today in advocating his substitute for the Aldrich financial bill, providing among other things for the issuance of emergency treasury notes, guarantee of bank deposits, redistribution of reserves and preventing the use national bank deposits for stock gambling purposes.

The Senator claimed credit of being the "original emergency currency man." Mr. Owen protested against the inclusion of railway bonds as an additional basis for bank circulation and denounced national banks for being used as the agencies for stock gambling.

HOUSE.

"In the first stage of the life of the republican party, the argument was prayer; in the second, praise and prejudice; in the third, prosperity. The third is at an end. In the fourth, what shall it be? We await, gentlemen, with interesting anticipation the birth of the new though." This was the way Representative Finis J. Garrett (dem. Tenn) today in the House of Representatives sailed into the republican party. He was accusing the dominant party of hypocrisy, particularly on he tariff issue. The period of prayer, according to Garrett, covered the party's affiliation with the anti-slavery sentiment of the country. "I think it could be clearly demonstrated that the real influences of the party cared not a rap about slavery, but its leaders saw an opportunity and seized it," said he.

The praise-and-prejudice period extended over two decades, he explained, when the "bloody shirt" was the banner and the appeal was to the heroic memories and intense prejudices of the civil war. The third period, the one with which the present generation is familiar, he continued, was based on prosperity, and had been worked full force since 1893 "The republican party has reached a new era," exclaimed the Tennessean. "It stands face to face with cold dispassionate industrial facts which belie its words of fifteen years. It must come out into the sunlight now and meet this tariff issue on its merits and its demerits."

Mr. Longworth had the clerk read an article from a recent issue of the New York American, painting a rosy picture of present prosperity.

A bill introduced by Mr. Hackney provides that the Interstate Commerce Commission shall adopt and publish by October 1, 1908, a uniform classification of freight articles and rules for carrying freight by all interstate common carriers, and that this classification and the rules shall be observed by carriers.

The House considered the army appropriation bill in general debate.

News of the Day.

Because of legal difficulties it is not likely any national liquor law will be enacted at this session of Congress.

The Supreme Court yesterday decided that copyrighted music is not protected against reproduction in pianolas and other instruments.

The handsome club house of the Hartford, Conn., Golf Club situated in West Hartford was burned today. The loss is estimated at $40,000.

Thomas A. Edison, who underwent an operation Sunday night in New York for abscess of the middle ear, is reported better today, and his early recovery is expected.

The Green Mountain Saving Bank at DesMoines, Iowa, closed its doors today and President S. McDiarid, of Omaha, is under arrest in that city on the charge of illegal banking.

The Supreme Court yesterday decided that the city of Mobile, Ala., has the right to require a liquor dealer to take out a license to sell liquor that is brought through interstate commerce.

Oscar Keene, of Newark, N. J., was today appointed receiver of the Blake Typewriter Company by Vice Chancellor Howell on proofs of insolvency. The liabilities are about $400,000. The assets are placed at $100,000.

Every discovery of the autopsy performed at Portsmouth, N. H., today on the body of George A. Carkins seemed to support the assertions of his sister that Carkins was shot and killed two months ago by her husband, Paul E. Roy.

The U. S. Supreme Court yesterday decided that the improved property losses of land, of the University of the South, in Franklin county, Tenn., is subject to taxation. The University resisted the taxation on the ground that its exemption from taxation might be affected thereby.

The protective board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, representing the employes of the three railroads in Worcester, Mass., notified the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company that the firemen in the employ of that road would not submit to the proposed reduction of wages.

Favorable action by Congress on the bill introduced by Mr. Acheson of Pennsylvania to prohibit betting on horse races and all other forms of gambling in the District was recommended to the House committee on the District yesterday in a letter from the District Commissioners. The measure, if enacted into law, would prohibit all kinds of betting.

Yesterday was President Pardo's birthday. A gala bull fight was held at Lima in honor of this event and the visit of the American fleet, and 8,000 spectators attended. Of this number 6,000 were sailors and others from the fleet, to most of whom a bull fight was a novelty. When President Pardo and Rear Admiral Thomas appeared in the seats of honor, they were enthusiastically cheered by the spectators.

The suit brought by Clarence U. Venner, of New York, to compel President James J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railroad, to account for some $10,000,000 profits alleged to have been made by Hill and other members of the syndicate that brought about the Northern Securities merger, collapsed in the U. S. Supreme Court yesterday. That court held that the United States Circuit Court in New York did right in dismissing the suit.

Virginia News.

Mr. John T. Crissey died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Archibald Carr, in Leesburg, last Saturday, aged sixty-one years.

Alice Stratton, 8 years old, was run over and killed in Richmond yesterday by a negro driver, who whipped up his horses and escaped.

Thomas Piggott, a wealthy farmer of Loudoun county, died Sunday morning at his home, near Silcott Springs, aged sixty-five years.

Lieutenant Commander Isaac Knight Seymour, ordnance officer at the Norfolk navy yard, is dead, aged 44. Commander Seymour was a Nova Scotian by birth.

Mrs. Jed Hotchkiss died at Staunton Sunday night of pneumonia. She was formerly Miss Sarah Lane and was born in New York seventy five years ago, having celebrated her seventy-fifth birthday February 14.

Ernest L. Dashiell, formerly general agent of the Seaboard Fire Insurance Company in Portsmouth, and also a real estate operator, yesterday entered a plea of guilty to an indictment for forgery, and was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary.

Governor Swanson denies the report that a conference was held in Richmond on Saturday night by the Governor, legislators and railway officials, the result of which, it had been stated, was that an agreement had been reached whereby the investigation of the railroads operating in this State would be stopped pending the present panic.

A handsomely furnished parish house was yesterday presented to Christ Episcopal Church Winchester by Mrs. Flora J. Tilford, widow of John P. Tilford, as a memorial to her sister, Miss Harriet Milton Hammond, a former communicant of the parish, who died a few years ago in New York. The new building adjoins Christ Church chapel. It is of brick and contains reception rooms and dining hall.

The joint session of the General Assembly tonight to consider the report of the committee which investigated the fitness of Judge William F. Rhea, of Bristol, to be Corporation Commissioner, will be public. It was stated yesterday that in all probability there will be two reports. The majority report will be signed by nine members. Senator Wickham will discuss the minority report. He will probably not take the ground that Judge Rhea is or has been connected with any of the allegations made against him, but will rather recommend that because of these attacks and the feeling that has been aroused his usefulness as a commissioner would be impaired.

The Legislature.

SENATE.

The Folkes bill, putting a tax on mine operators of one per cent. of the cash value of the output at the mouth of the mine, was snowed under in the Senate today by the overwhelming vote of 29 noes to 5 ayes.

Senator Mann called up the bills offered by him, providing for an increase in the fees of sheriffs, greater allowance for feed bills to sheriffs, sergeants and jailers, and secured the passage of all of them.

The Senate, by the vote of 26 to 7, passed the Strode bill fixing the minimum salary to be paid by the State to division superintendents of education at $900. The bill provides that county supervisors may supplement the compensation made by the State, as cities now do, or should they fail to do so, that the Board of Education may enlarge the districts take in two or more counties, in order to make the minimum salary the amount fixed by the bill. It is also provided that the division superintendent must devote his entire time to the supervision of the schools in his district, unless for good cause the Board of Education may permit him to undertake other work. The bill now goes to the House.

Senator Hart, opposed the passage of the Withers house bill, which forces transportation companies doing business in the State to pay just freight claims within sixty days from the time such claims are made, when the parcel or package shipped does not go beyond the boundaries of the State. Where interstate traffic is concerned, the time allowed is ninety days. Senator Hart alone voted against the passage of the bill.

The Senate passed the House bill providing a new road law for Fairfax county.

HOUSE.

By a vote of fifty-nine to twenty-five, the House today passed the Senate bill increasing the appropriation for the State militia to three times the present amount. By the terms of the Senate measure, the soldiers will get about $50,000 a year.

The House passed the companion bills which make railroad corporations liable for all fires resulting from sparks thrown from their engines, and which allow such corporations an insurable right in all such property.

The House and Senate have disagreed on the pension bill. The House made the appropriation for this fund $400,000, and the Senate added another $50,000, making the total $450,000. The bill came up in the House yesterday on a motion to concur in the Senate amendment, but the House declined to agree and asked for a conference committee.

The bill which authorizes county supervisors and the councils of cities to make a special levy for the support of maimed or disabled Confederate veterans and indigent widows, was passed to its engrossment in the House and made a special order for today.

House bill No. 272, introduced by Delegates Page and Thrift, has for its object the abolition of the fee system as a means for compensating commonwealth's attorneys, and aims to substitute therefor salaries payable out of the public treasury. Under the present law the fees of commonwealth's attorneys are collected as a part of the costs from the defendant and put into the State treasury. The bill referred to above allows salaries. Under the provisions of the bill the Commonwealth's Attorney of Alexandria city would receive $300 and of Alexandria county $250.

BISHOP SATTERLEE'S FUNERAL

The casket containing the body of the late Right Rev. Henry Yates Satterlee, bishop of Washington, was carried yesterday evening at 7 o'clock from the Satterlee home, on Massachusetts avenue, to the Pro Cathedral Church of the Ascension, on the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Twelfth street, Washington. It was borne by eight clergymen of the diocese and placed in the chancel, where it laid in state until the funeral this afternoon at 2 o'clock. During the night the casket was guarded in relays by the clergy of the diocese.

Beginning at 7 o'clock this morning holy communion was celebrated every hour until noon. The funeral services were held at the Pro Cathedral at 2 o'clock. There was a large attendance of bishops and the clergy.

Bishops Potter, Gailor, and Mackay-Smith officiated at the funeral services in the church. At the interment Bishop Lawrence and Canons Bratenahl and Harding had charge of the ceremonies.

In charge of the procession at the Pro-Cathedral was Rev. G. F. Dudley, Rev. W. T. Snyder, and Rev. C. H. Halmead.

Burial was in the Cathedral grounds, Wisconsin avenue near St. Alban's Church. The body was placed in a vault in the Little Sanctuary, a chapel built under the late prelate's direction.

Among the bishops who attended the services were Bishop Lawrance, of Massachusetts; Bishop Potter, of New York; Bishop Mackay-Smith and Bishop Whittaker, both of Pennsylvania; Bishop Tailor, of Tennessee; Bishop Darlington, of Harrisburg, Pa., and Bishop Tucker, of Southern Virginia.

BLACKSTONE RESTS CASE.

Never having attempted to refute the charge of immorality, the defense in the investigation of charges against J. W. G. Blackstone, judge of the Eleventh judical circuit, yesterday afternoon, after a fifteen minute session, unexpectedly rested its case.

No witnesses were heard in the afternoon session except Fay S. Collier, of Hampton, an attorney for the defense, who testified as to the judge's condition during recent trials in which he was connected.

Prior to the announcement that the defense would rest, Attorney Ashby talked quietly with Judge Blackstone. Even before the announcement was formally made, it was understood that the defense would yield its case, and it was further practically assured that no defense would be offered in connection with the immorality charge. It is generally believed that the committee will discharge the insobriety charge, as it did the charge of incompetency. The committee will resume session today.

Today's Telegraphic News.

A Woman's Revenge.

New York, Feb. 25.—Another woman took bloody revenge today upon the man she alleges ruined her life, and as a result Charles M. Sanford, a wealthy and well-known Brooklyn lawyer, is lying at the point of death at the Brooklyn Hospital, while the woman who shot him, Mrs. Jennie Bunt, is a prisoner at the Adams street police station talking incoherently about the alleged wrongs she suffered at Sanford's hands.

Sanford was shot in the back of the head, and though he may recover, physicians say that the chances are very much against him.

Mrs. Bunt visited the Garfield building, where Sanford has his office, shortly after 8 o'clock this morning and waited at the door of Sanford's suite until one of the other occupants appeared. She nervously inquired if Sanford would come to the office, and upon being informed he would be there soon, she took a chair in his office.

When Sanford, who lives at Smithtown, L. I., arrived he took her into his private office and closed the door. Shortly after other tenants of the suite heard loud talking and a moment later two shots rang out. Sanford, blood streaming from the back of his head, opened the door and tottered into the arms of a clerk. Mrs. Bunt, flourishing a revolver, rushed after him, but another lawyer pinioned her hands behind her back while telephone messages were sent for the police and an ambulance.

Sanford seemed to recover for a while, but made no statement to his associates. Instead, as soon as the ambulance arrived, he walked down the stairs into the vestibule.

Mrs. Bunt offered no resistance to arrest. She appears to be slightly demented.

The United States Fleet.

Lima, Feb. 25.—The fact that bubonic plague is prevalent in Peruvian coast cities is apparently causing no uneasiness on the United States ships.

Reports that Admirals Thomas, Sperry and Emory left President Pardo's box at yesterday bull fight so early as to have given offense is said to be without foundation, the officers having explained to the President's entire satisfaction that official duties compelled their departure.

The show was certainly, however, a frightfully bloody one, Matador Padilla having been so badly gored that he is dying and Matador Bonarillo suffering injuries which may prevent him from ever entering the ring again.

The sailors, of whom 3,500 were given shore leave for the occasion, were brought from Callao to Lima in eight special trains. The 5,000 Peruvians who surrounded the arena received them with a tempest of cheers while the bands played American airs and the sailors responded to the greeting with deafening shouts of friendliness and delight. The arena was decorated with the United States and Peruvian flags intertwined.

Though definite news has not yet been received from Talcahuano, Chili, it is supposed the torpedo boat flotilla left there today for Callao, where it is expected March 1.

England's Naval Estimates.

London, Feb. 25.—The limitation of England's naval estimates for the current year to $161,597,500, though $4,510,000 greater than in 1907, is regarded as an important victory for the economist element in Parliament.

The fight for a larger sum raged all last week and ended with a reduction of $2,500,000 from the figures in the original draft. The present allowance is considered tolerably satisfactory, however, by all but the extreme jingoists, provided the economy is only temporary.

The government's declaration that the navy's standard relatively to other powers will be maintained is accepted as meaning that the halt is to continue only for a year while Germany's intentions are closely watched.

The 1909 programme will depend entirely on Germany. If that country carries out its present plans, England will reply by laying down at least six new craft of the Dreadnaught type.

The estimates are expected to pass without serious opposition, but it is agreed the government cannot last a day unless it outstrips Germany's programme next year.

Germans Aided Rebel?

Port Au Prince, Feb. 25.—President Lilavois, of the Haitien commission appointed to determine what foreign influences were behind the recent uprising against President Nord Alexis's government, has reported to the national executive that Hermann and Company, the German firm against which charges have already been made, certainly gave General Firmin the rebel leader, at least $20,000 and probably a still larger sum, presumably to aid in the revolutionary movement. It is said other concerns are mentioned as having helped to finance the uprising.

Demonstrations Suppressed.

Rome, Feb. 25.—Several demonstrations of sympathy for former minister of public instruction Nunzio Nasi were sternly put down by the police early today. It is believed the vigor with which the authorities are acting will prevent serious trouble in Rome, but in Sicily, of which Nasi is a native, the situation is more serious.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 25.—Following a generally weak opening the prices of a number of stocks declined moderately during the first hour, indicating a change in the speculative mood. There was some liquidation, but the bulk of the selling came from the trading element that was active on the bull side yesterday. Trading after the first hour was extremely dull.

IN THE GOOD OLD FASHIONED DAYS.

Powdered Wigs Formed an Important Adjunct to a Gentleman's Apparel.

It is safe to say that the majority of bald men of today would gladly revive the old, dignified custom if they could. But, they can do the next best thing to it; that is, hold on to what hair they have.

In cases where the hair root or hair bulb has not been completely destroyed by parasites that infest it, Newbro's Herpicide will do wonders in the way of encouraging a new growth of hair. Destroy the cause, you remove the effect. This is the successful mission of Herpicide.

Japanese School Question Again.

San Francisco Feb. 25—The Japanese school question will break out afresh today when Sung H. Cho aged 21, a Corean, applies for reinstatement to the Central school at Sausalite, taught by Miss A. Smith. Cho will be backed by half a dozen Japanese students and his attorney, Daniel Suter. He was compelled to leave because of his age, and Principal Sharp has been notified that his failure to reinstate Cho will result in an appeal to the court to compel such action. The Sausalito school board declares it will stand pat and fight to the last ditch before it will allow grown up yellow men to associate with little white girls in the schools.

Traveling Under the Hudson River.

New York, Feb. 25.—Late this afternoon, when President Roosevelt at Washington presses a button to give the signal, will see the realization of the long-cherished dream of underground travel from Manhattan to Jersey. At the President's signal the first official train, bearing a distinguished party, will start from the Manhattan terminal toward Hoboken. At midnight the tubes will be opened to public travel. Tomorrow it is expected the system will be working as smoothly as if Jersey commuters had been traveling under the Hudson river for years.

Riotous Poles.

Chicago, Feb 25.—Seventy-five Poles turned a wedding feast in north Carpenter street into a riot after and all night celebration and thirty were wounded. Three are in the county hospital expected to die. John Wundeske, one of the guests, was ejected and tossed down twenty-five stairs into the street. This precipitated the fight. Knives, pistols and beer bottles were used until the arrival of two wagon loads of police. Fourteen men were arrested.

General Stoessel Seeks Pardon.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 25.—General Stoessel, sentenced to death by a military court for surrendering Port Arthur, has petitioned the czar for a full pardon. The judges, who convicted him, recommended a commutation of sentence to ten years' imprisonment, but did not suggest a pardon. Nicholas is friendly to Stoessel, but the war office, which he criticised for Port Arthur's unpreparedness, seeks the heaviest possible penalty against him.

Train Ditched.

Laredo, Tex., Feb. 25.—Four persons were seriously injured and about 25 others slightly hurt when the train carrying Charles G. Gates's Mexican touring party was ditched during the night twelve miles north of here. Most of the passengers were from Toledo, O., although a few were from other points. The wreck was due to a broken axle on the engine. The train consisted of nine coaches, five of which were pullmans.

Chinaman Shot.

New York, Feb. 25—Ah Foon, said to be one of New York's richest Chinese, was shot today as he lay in bed in the Oliver street tenement house, where he makes his home, and physicians at the Hudson street hospital think he will die. There are rumors in Chinatown that the shooting marks a reopening of the Tongs' war, but inasmuch as the victim had several thousand dollars in his room at the time, the police scent a robbery.

Injunction Granted.

New York, Feb. 25.—Justice of the Supreme Court Platzek today granted a temporary injunction restraining the Delaware and Hudson Railway Company from paying the dividend due next March. The injunction is returnable next Monday. It was obtained by counsel for the bondholders who recently applied to the public service commission of the second district to investigate the company.

FATHER KILLS SON.

Information was received at Norfolk last night of the killing of Arthur F. Dennis by his aged father, H. E. Dennis, in Northampton county, early Sunday morning.

Arthur Dennis on Nassawadox lived creek, in Elliott's Neck, Northampton. He went to the home of his father about 9 o'clock Saturday night, and after drinking, it is said, got into a quarrel with his father.

This kept up until about 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The father then left his son and went to his room. He was followed by J. T. Messick, who lives with him, and by his son.

In the room the quarrel between father and son was renewed. The son hurled the father violently against a window, which was broken. Then the old man pulled a pistol from beneath the foot of the bed and fired at his son. Reeling, the younger man then went down stairs. Just outside the front door of the house he fell heavily to the ground. When a physician arrived Dennis was dead.

A coroner's inquest, conducted by a justice of the peace, justified the killing of the son by the father on the ground of self-defense.

The tragedy occurred on the father's eightieth birthday, for the celebration of which elaborate plans had been made by the wife of the man who was killed.

Arthur Dennis was about forty-five years old, and surviving him is the widow and a grown son.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senator Wythe, of Maryland, and Senator Simmons, of North Carolina yesterday addressed the Senate on the Aldrich currency bill.

Senator Burkett gave notice that today he will call up the Dolliver school bill and ask that it be considered for passage.

Consideration of the penal code bill in committee of the whole was concluded.

In the House a bill authorizing the presentation of four condemned brass cannon to the monument association of Franklin, Tenn., was passed.

Speaker Cannon overruled the rules committee's favorable report on the investigation of peonage in the South.

Six bills amending the law relating to pensions in the fire department, fixing the standard of measure of a cord of wood, extending Oak, Kenyon, Seventeenth, Jefferson, and Fifth streets, and widening Twentieth street were passed.

The House in committee of the whole began the consideration of the army appropriation bill.

OUR TWENTY-EIGHTH
Business Birthday
Anniversary

This is our Anniversary Week, the celebration of which began Monday and will be continued all the week.

It is a substantial celebration, as well as a sentimental one. Every section of the store has been for weeks preparing for the event, and every day there will be special opportunities to secure new, fresh, desirable merchandise at under-value prices.

A goodly number of new items today: others will greet you tomorrow. They will remain on sale at same special prices as long as they last.

Each year finds the store with stronger trade connections at home and in Europe; each year finds the store able to reduce the proportion of waste in handling goods from the manufacturer to the user. And this elimination of waste—waste in the cost of marketing goods—is the chief advantage of the big general store.

And so we strive to make the business greater and greater—not for mere business, but because a business must grow to hold its own, and must grow to reach the extreme of helpfulness.

☞NOTE.—Mail orders will be filled for the Anniversary Specials as long as the goods hold out. While quantities are generous in all departments, we would advise your ordering at once to avoid possible delays and disappointments.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

"Don't trifle with a cold,' is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child Proper food, good ventilation, and dry warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well-established ripe cold is the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold." Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

BEQUESTS TO RELATIVES.

The will of Chas. E. Wood, former senior member of the firm of Wood, Harmon & Co, dated August 27 last, was filed for probate in Washington yesterday. Eunie I. Wood, widow of the testator, is bequeathed $10,000 pending the settlement of the estate, and she is left an additional sum of $25,000. Two hundred thousand dollars is left in trust for his widow to pay her the income therefrom in quarterly installments, the principal to revert to the estate upon her death. She is also left the residence at 2031 Florida avenue northwest, in Washington.

To Harriet Wood, widow of the testator's brother, John Wood, is left $10,000; to Ada Carnahan Shane, $20,000, and to her two children, Catherine and William Shane, $10,000 each; to Lillian V. Moon, Minnie Pearl Wood, Imogene Michael, Hattie Barbee and Mary Wood Van De Boe, nieces, $10,000 each; to Edric Wood and Jessie Wood, children of a nephew, Eurford Wood, $1,000 each, and also $4,000 to be held in trust for them.

To Washington Commandery, Knights Templar, Washington, 200 is left, and a like amount to Miami Commandery, Knights Templar, of Lebanon, Ohio. To Alfred E. Muller, of Washington, is left $10,000 and to his son, Edric Wood Mueller, $2,000.

The testator directs that $10,000 be expended for a suitable monument.

A number of bequests are made to employes of the firm of Wood, Harmon & Co., among which are $5,000 to Mrs. Robert W. Owens, of Baltimore, and $5,000 each to James R. Caton and W. R. Emerson, both of Alexandria.

The residue is left in trust for the J. S. Kellogg sanitarium, of Battle Creek, Mich., for a sanitarium at Atlantic City.

Mr. Wood was the senior member of the real estate firm of Wood, Harmon & Co. and was the promoter of Del Ray and St. Elmo.

CASE POSTPONED.

The case of Edward Downs, Harry Hicks and Wilbert Cook, the three young men charged with being connected with the holding up and shooting of T. J. Schneider on the Shooter's Hill road, near this city, three weeks ago, was set for examination in the Police Court this morning at 9 o'clock. All the witnesses were present, but Schneider, who is now at his home near Bailey's cross roads, failed to appear. At 10:15 o'clock it was decided to postpone the examination of the case until next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Schneider has improved materially, although the bullet in his right lung has not been located.

Mr. Schneider left his home for this city at 8 o'clock this morning, but did not reach the station house until 11:30 o'clock. He still insists that the three young men who held him up, one of which shot him, are the parties now held in custody.

GEORGE WASHINGTON PARK.

Now that the 22nd is over, every one wishing to honor Washington, add to the beauty and attractiveness of the city by erecting a monument to the memory of this great man and furnish a splendid park for the city, should aid the Washington Monument Association by purchasing one of the splendid residential lots offered for sale in Spring Park section of George Washington Park. Over half of the second 200 lots have been sold. For full particulars apply to Alex. J. Wedderburn, secretary of the Washington Birthday Association.

A meeting of the association was held this morning in the office of Mr. E. E. Downham, when a committee was appointed to confer with the owners of the Shooter's Hill and Spring Park property. The secretary reported the sale of lots aggregating about $40,000.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

At the regular meeting of George Washington Lodge, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America, held last night the following officers were installed by Past Chief Carman Edgar W. Bowles:

Chief Carman W. A. Nalls; first vice carman, R. N. Rowland; second vice carman, Evell Sutphin; treasurer, Lewis C. Nall; financial secretary, E. L. Crump; recording secretary, W. R. Studds; guide, Julian Simpson; warden, Jackson Nalls; sentinel, R. W. Adcock; trustees, R. N Roland, L. F. Cheshire and Geo. W. Bonz.

After the installation of officers music, speaking, and recitation were indulged in after which a banquet at the Opera House was highly enjoyed. The music of the occasion was furnished by a mandolin club of Washington.

REVIVAL SERVICES.

A large congregation assembled at the Washington Street M. E. Church South, last night, to hear Rev. D. Vance Price, of North Carolina, who preached from the text, "What is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" Mr. Price is a most impressive preacher, speaking with great clearness, simplicity and pathos. A large chorus under the direction of Mr. H. K. Field leads the singing. The public is cordially invited to attend. Mr. Price preaches daily at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

DAMAGE SUITS.

Messrs. Robert S. Barrett and B. Abramson yesterday filed suits in the Corporation Court to recover damages from the Washington Decorators for alleged failure on the part of the Washingtonians to decorate the respective places of business of Messrs. Barrett and Abramson on the occasion of the celebration in this city on the Twenty-second of February. Later in the day an attachment was sworn out against the decorators and a quantity of flags, bunting, etc., was attached in this city by Sergeant Cox and is now held here.

ELKS' CARNIVAL.

The echoes of the successful parade of Saturday have died away and the last of the visitors have returned to their homes and the city has resumed its normal quietness. Last night as on many nights previous the stillness was broken by the sound of music and the noise of many voices, bent on having a jolly times, at Armory Hall. Early in the evening could be seen the light-hearted lassies connected with the entertainment wending their way to the carnival. Following these were the young men anxious to spend their money. To add to the usual attendance there were two visitors from the Hot Springs, Ark., who had just left a summer clime to be present at the Elks' carnival. Although they had basked in the sunshine of that land of budding trees and blooming flowers and bathed in the fountain of youth which those springs furnish, they both agreed that they were in a garden of beauty and as much "hot water" last night as they ever saw in the whole State of Arkansas. They both "had money and spent it." The committee is working hard to make it entertaining and pleasant to all who attend and so far they have succeeded. The dancing is enjoyed each evening and participated in by both old and young. Tonight they expect visitations.

The carnival will close Thursday night with an auction at 8 p. m. of all goods not disposed of by that time.

Dancing will begin promptly at 9 p. m. and continue during the evening. All prizes, excepting the tours, will be drawn for on the closing night. Tomorrow afternoon will be given to the children free from 2 to 5 p. m.

FUNERALS.

The remains of the late Miss Lucy Dorsey, whose death occurred in Washington Sunday night, were brought here at 12:45 this afternoon and interred in the Trinity Methodist Cemetery. Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, and Rev. Douglas Hooff, of Baltimore, conducted the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. G. W. Ramsay, T. W. Robinson, H. R. Burke and Hubert Snowden.

The remains of the late Eugene M. Rouse, who died in Washington on Sunday last, were brought to this city this morning and interred in Bethel cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Fisher.

CASE DISMISSED.

After hearing arguments on a demurrer to indictments for extortion and for compounding a felony in the case of Isaac C. Burrell, a justice of the peace of Jefferson district, Alexandria county, Judge J. B. T. Thornton in the circuit court for Alexandria county yesterday afternoon sustained the demurrer to the indictments. The court entered an order quashing the indictments and dismissing the prosecution. Mr. Burrell was indicted at the December term of the circuit court for Alexandria county. The indictments grew out of the cases of some Italians tried before him for engaging in a stone battle in the county, and also for discharging firearms.

THE LENTEN SEASON.

Shrove Tuesday (Pancake Day) is but one week off. The following day will be observed as Ash Wednesday, when the Lenten season will be ushered in. During the forty days which will follow members of the Catholic, Episcopal and Lutheran churches will abstain from many customs which prevail at other times of the year. This season of devotion and, in a measure, of self-abnegation, has been observed from time immemorial. The period will be brought to a close on Easter Sunday, April 19.

CORPORATION COURT.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

Dr. W. T. Lilly, of Norwood, N. C., was appointed administrator of the estate of the late Henry A. Lilly and J. E. W. Timberman. R. W. Arnold and T. L. Carter were appointed appraisers.

Benedict Wheatley, was appointed administrator of the estate of the late J. M. Reed, and H. B. Caton, C. L. Pickin and J. R. Caton, jr., were appointed appraisers.

SOUTHERN MEN ON WAGES.

Committees of the locomotive firemen and of the railroad telegraphers employed on the Southern Railway had conferences in Washington yesterday with General Manager Ackert on the general question of a proposed reduction of wages on the system. The conferences were inconclusive and it was arranged to further discuss the matter at a later time.

ICE DAMAGES WHARVES.

In addition to the damage caused along the wharves in this city by drifting ice the reports from the lower river are more serious, the worst being that of Smith's wharf, in King George county; Thompson's wharf in Nominie Creek has been carried away and Bushwood, on the Wicomico river has been somewhat damaged.

CONTRACT FOR BALLOON.

Thomas S. Baldwin, of New York city, has been awarded the contract by the Signal Office for furnishing the army with a dirigible balloon at the price named by him of $6,750. It is to be delivered in 150 days. The trial flight will be held at Fort Meyer in Alexandria county,

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The City Council meets tonight.

There were no cases for trial in the Police Court this morning.

The weather was cold again last night. The mercury in the thermometer at an early hour this morning stood at 28°.

There was a practical demonstration of Mr. Geo. W. Pettey's fire alarm system at the southwest corner of King and St. Asaph streets today. The device is intended to block street cars when a fire alarm shall have been sounded and thereby prevent collisions between fire engines and trains.

A slight fire occurred about 3 o'clock this evening in the stable in the rear of the Fairfax House, on Fairfax street between King and Cameron. The fire which was believed to have been of incendiary origin was extinguished before much damage had been done and before an alarm had been sounded.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

The executive board of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs held a business session Tuesday, February 11th, in Lynchburg, in response to the call of the president of the organization, Mrs. J. R. Kyle. The board is composed of the officers of the Federation as follows: Mrs. J. R Kyle, Lynchburg, president; Mrs. W. T. Harris, Danville, first vice-president; Mrs. Lucien H. Cocke, Roanoke, second-vice-president; Miss Elizabeth Gish, Lynchburg, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. S. Leadbeater, Alexandria, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Ruan, Bedford City, auditor.

The meeting was full of interest and reports from various committees showed that valuable work is being done by the Federation. Especial interest was shown along the lines of education, civic betterment and home economics.

An invitation was presented from the Bedford Library Association to hold the annual meeting of the Federation, which takes place in May, in Bedford City. The invitation was accepted by an unanimous vote.

The report from Mrs. R. Taylor Gleaves, chairman of the art committee, outlined plans for an art exhibition in the large towns of the State, and of smaller collections of pictures in the villages and small towns.

Reports were heard from Mrs. W. T. Harris, of Danville, on civics; Mrs. B. H. Early, of Montvale, on forestry; Mrs. William Strother, of Lynchburg, on library work; Miss Helen Cummings, of Alexandria, on literature; Mrs. J. W. Gish, of Bedford City, on reciprocity.

The report of the committee on industrial education and the home was especially interesting and showed remarkable activity on the part of its members. Mrs. Mary Beck is chairman of the committee.—[Lynchburg News.

Arabian Hypocrisy.

Writes a traveler: "The noblest and the basest Arabs are agreed that to obtain as quickly as possible all the available cash they can lay their hands on is by no means degrading. But even here subtle dialectic comes into play. The Arab must always have right on his side, for in studied and complex hypocrisy he has nothing to learn from us. If an Arab would rob his guest—I am speaking from personal experience—he will first talk at length on the subject of honor, hospitality, and so forth. He will gradually work the matter round as to why you are traveling, throw out suggestions that spies, enemies and intruders cannot claim hospitality, suggest that he himself is poor, question himself as to whether he ought not to detain you as a prisoner, again state that he is in want, and thus shift from blackmail to cajolery and from gentle requests to threats, until he has extorted a sum of money which in his curious brain he might describe as the least he could accept with honor or the most he could extract without danger to himself."

The Spanish Galleon.

Primarily the galleon was but a peaceful merchant ship, but by the irony of fate she became, almost from her inception, a center of the fiercest fighting. Square rigged and high of stem and stern, broad of bow and low of waist, with massive bulwarks and forecastle, and poop three and four decks high, she possessed a picturesque appearance, but little of sensible naval architecture. The stem was clumsy, broad and blunt and smashed heavily through the waves to the great detriment of speed. This and the towering stern presented such a surface to the wind that the difficulties of steering were quite formidable, and six or eight men at the wheel were not unusual. The method in this apparent madness of marine construction was the landlubber's instinct, still strong in men of the sea of those days, to reduce all naval maenuvers to the stand up and knock down tactics of the land fight on a common platform.—John C. Fitzpatrick in Scribner's.

Bluffed the Parson.

The former Lord Elphinstone's parish minister was a very scatter brained theologian and in his sermons often knew not the end from the beginning. One Sunday his lordship, in his customary sleeping, gave vent to an unmistakable snore. This was too much for the minister, who stopped and cried, "Waken, my Lord Elphinstone!"

A grunt followed, and then his lordship answered, "I'm no sleepin', minister."

"But ye are sleepin'. I wager ye dinna ken what I said last," exclaimed the pastor.

"Ou, aye," returned the peer. "Ye said, 'Waken, my Lord Elphinstone.'"

"Aye, aye!" said the minister. "But I wager ye dinna ken what I said last afore that."

"Tuts," replied the nobleman promptly. "I'll wager ye dinna ken yersel'."—Dundee Advertiser.

Instead of Cutting Corks.

After withdrawing a cork from a bottle the former rapidly expands, and when one wishes to replace it one frequently finds that it has become too large for the purpose. The usual remedy in such cases is to pare pieces off the side. This, however, is seldom satisfactory, for the cork, as a rule, is far from airtight, and in some cases will not even keep the liquid in. A better way is to place it on the floor and roll it backward and forward with one's foot, putting a certain amount of pressure on it. After a few minutes of this persuasive treatment it will have become fairly soft and can be inserted in the bottle without difficulty.

A Rare Complaint.

"Isn't it strange," asks the first man, "that so many men, after years of ruthless commercial practices, piracies one might almost say, after they have climbed to the very pinnacle of success, should have softening of the brain?"

"It would be stranger yet, infinitely stranger," replied the man with the corrugated brow, "if any of them ever had softening of the heart."—Puck.

FAILURE IN BOSTON.

Municipal Ownership Tried by the Hub, but Found Wanting.

It Was Voted In 1906 Not to Try to Establish Municipal Gas and Electric Light Works Because the City Had Already Shown Its Inability to Carry on Public Utilities—History of the Unsuccessful Attempts.

In 1906 the city council of Boston voted against attempting municipal gas and electric lighting on the ground that the city had already proved its inability in such matters by a succession of failures in various trading enterprises.

In 1897, for instance, Boston established a municipal printing plant. Five years later, in 1902, Harvey Chase, an expert accountant, who was examining all the city departments for Mayor Collins, and Thomas P. Nichols, an expert printer, reported that the plant had already lost over $40,000 and that a greater loss was avoided only by charging other departments more than they would have had to pay outside printers.

They also reported that at the time of the investigation the stock room was crowded with unnecessary paper, inks, etc., bought at great expense and liable to depreciation by handling or damage by fire; that some valuable stock, then very recently bought, could not be found, nor could there be found any record of its use; that excessive rates were paid for ruling and binding done outside; that there was an entirely unnecessary number of employees in all divisions of the department, who added to the expense and subtracted from the efficiency; that a disposition to kill time was manifest, and that in spite of the fact that the hours of employees were shorter than in private plants less was accomplished per man per hour worked.

The operation of two ferry lines from Boston to East Boston, which were bought by the city in 1859, loomed up as another object lesson. Until 1870 the ferries were leased at a loss and since then have been operated by the city at an even greater loss. In 1877, to be sure, the city made the magnificent profit of $93.88, but in each of the other forty-seven years up to February, 1906, there was a deficit varying from $780 to $292,000 and amounting in all to $3,743,548, or an average of almost $78,000 a year.

Boston's water supply, though far famed for quantity and quality, furnished but another proof that the city cannot do business as well as a private corporation. Boston receives pure water from the metropolitan water board, distributes it through the city, collects the charges and each year pays its assessed share of the total expense. This would seem a simple proposition, but Harvey Chase in 1902 in his report on the water department said: "The lack of proper methods for handling transactions of such magnitude and, indeed, the general crudeness and looseness of the capital accounts in the waterworks' bookkeeping ever since the foundation of the plant are astonishing. * * * There has been excessive expenditure for work done through the employment of unnecessary men, by the employment of aged and infirm men and by other means whereby the costs of work have been heavily increased."

Four years have now gone by since the evils in these three departments were made public in a free city document, but nothing has been done to remedy them. "Even in those departments especially investigated and reported upon in considerable detail," said Harvey Chase in 1906, "the annual expense today is as large as before and in some cases even relatively larger." What surer proof of inefficiency could be given?

But even had there been no printing, no ferry, no water fiascos, the amounts paid recently for services of veterinarians to care for the horses in the street and police departments of Boston would alone have been sufficient to indicate that it would be well to limit rather than extend Boston's municipal activities.

The police department in 1904 paid $19.34 for veterinary services and medicine for each of its sixty or more horses, an outrageous price, and the next year paid nearly $25. The street department, where wasting the taxpayers' money in excessive veterinary payments had come to be a habit, easily topped its own high figures in 1905 by paying $24.20 for each of 500 horses.

These figures were so obviously excessive that some change had to be made. Accordingly the police department under a new single headed commission reduced its veterinary expenses in 1906 to about $13 per horse, and the mayor instituted a plan by which the cost per horse in the street department came down to $14.

That these reductions were possible is itself a sure proof that Boston is anything but efficient in business, and further proof, if any is needed, can be found by comparing even these reduced figures with, say, the average of $10 per horse paid under able management in the fire department, with the $5.94 paid by the police department in 1902, with the bona fide offer of one of the best veterinarians in the city to do the street department's work for $6 per horse and finally with the $2 per year for each of its 200 horses paid by a great private grocery and supply firm in Boston.

Compared with some cities, Boston is well governed, but these and a succession of similar illustrations of wastefulness, failure and executive ability prove that it cannot do business in a way to give its citizens full value for the money they pay in taxes.—Courtnay Crocker.

ADVISE SELLING OUT.

An Unusually Frank Statement of Failure by a Board of Public Service.

In an exhaustive report to the city council the board of public service of Bellefontaine, O., recommended the selling of the municipal gas plant on the following grounds:

"The gas plant is no longer necessary to and does not furnish any public service.

"The mains in the principal streets are very old and will require in the future expensive repairs.

"The plant is in as good condition today as it is possible to put the present system, and to change the system will require another bond issue.

"The average price received from the sale of gas is very little if any lower than a private corporation would give to our people, but is as low as any governing board the people may elect can make and keep the plant in its present condition and meet all the requirements and pay bonds and interest, as has been the policy of the present management.

"Four years ago it was necessary to issue $15,000 of bonds to build a new holder and install coal gas bench and necessary machinery, and another issue of bonds to the extent of $12,000 to pay overdrafts in the banks, and $5,000 more to put new mains in Sandusky street before it was paved. These bond issues should have been unnecessary if the plant had been operated with a view of self support, but gas was being furnished part of our citizens for much less than cost, and the remaining citizens, even if they did not use gas, were compelled to stand a bond issue for which each taxpayer became equally responsible to get the plant on its feet. And, as history repeats itself, you will find a request in the future, as in the past, for bonds to keep the plant in condition if the price of gas is lowered, and we wish to say in this connection that with the election for members of this board almost a year in advance there are candidates who are grooming themselves today with a view of catching popular favor and riding into office on the promise of cheaper gas, and if elected on that issue and their promises and pledges are carried out you may expect a request for a bond issue, and when we realize that we are now bonded to our legal limit, how will the money be furnished? And if the plant is permitted to get in the condition it was in four years ago, what would it be worth if compelled to sell it?

"Is it right or just to tax those people who do not use gas to keep up this plant, either by taxes or bond issues, when they derive no service, either personally or as citizens from public service, from the plant? Is it right to tax any citizen to keep up something that gives him no return as a taxpayer? And, on the other hand, is it right to compel the gas consumer to build up a plant from revenues derived from the sale of gas for the people? As the people own this plant, would it not be more equitable to all the people to dispose of the plant and with the proceeds furnish a necessity by installing water mains and sewerage accommodation for all citizens? This, in our opinion, should find favor from both factions, both of whom at present have just cause for complaint."

The soothing spray of Ely's Liquid Cream Balm, used in an atomizer, is an unspeakable relief to sufferers from Catarrh. Some of them describe it as "as Godsend, and no wonder. The thick, foul discharge is dislodged and the patient breathes freely, perhaps for the first time in weeks. Liquid Cream Balm contains all the healing, purifying elements of the solid form, and it never fails to satisfy. Sold by all druggists for 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

The newspaper in the home is a necessity. Get one that can be safely read by the entire family. The Tribune is a paper that prints all the news of the world in such a manner as to be readable without offending the laws of good taste. It is a human paper—one edited by men and women; and while, at times, it may occasionally make mistakes, its readers believe and trust in it. There is nothing ever printed in The Tribune that will not instruct and educate, just as it is a fact there is nothing ever printed that will offend decency.

With The Sunday Tribune you get a handsome illustrated supplement of timely topics and a superb twenty page magazine with colored cover, which contains most interesting fiction and short stories by well known authors. This, with other sections, goes to make up one of the most complete and interesting Sunday Newspapers published.

The Daily and Sunday Tribune is the ideal family newspaper. A dollar bill sent to the Circulation Department of The Tribune, New York, will bring The Daily and Sunday Tribune into your family for one month. Or send $10 for one year.
